

BLIND LLEWELLYN'S STRAIN:

A Favorite Air as

Sung by M^{RS} JORDAN with the greatest applause

At the Theatre Royal Drury Lane

in the

LAST OF THE FAMILY

The Words by Rich^d. Cumberland Esq^r

The Music by

MICHAEL KELLY.

Entered at Stationers Hall.

Price 1^s

London Printed for & Sold by J. DALE N^o 19 Cornhill, & the corner of Holles Street Oxford Str^t.

Harp or Piano
Forte

Andante

Friends of the Muse if yet your strain can pure delight delight im-part the stream tho' small you'll not dif-dain whose fountain whose fountain is the heart, But if your

The musical score is written in 2/4 time with a key signature of one flat (B-flat). It consists of three systems of music. The first system includes a Harp part (treble clef), a Piano part (treble clef), and a Forte part (bass clef). The tempo is marked 'Andante'. The lyrics are: 'Friends of the Muse if yet your strain can pure delight de-'. The second system continues the lyrics: 'light im-part the stream tho' small you'll not dif-dain whose'. The third system continues: 'fountain whose fountain is the heart, But if your'. The score includes various musical notations such as slurs, trills (tr), and dynamic markings.

Bard of power be- - rest finds all your favour your fa- - vour fled, Age has put out his fire and

left their ashes their ashes on his head.

FLUTE.

Friends of the muse if yet your strain can pure delight delight im- - part the stream tho' ^{small} you'll not dis- - dain whose fountain whose fountain is the heart, But if your Bard of power be- - rest finds all your favour your
 fa- - vour fled, Age has put out his fire and
 left their ashes their ashes on his head